

September 25, 2014

Lauren Fantaroni has played golf for me for two years now during her freshman and sophomore years at Notre Dame Academy in Worcester, MA. The first time I saw Lauren was when she was in sixth grade practicing at our home course of Cyprian Keyes. People told me at that time she would have played in the number one position which I didn't believe. When I saw her hit a golf ball I became a believer. Now at Notre Dame my nine year career record is 130-17-1 which means I have had some good players. I currently have players playing at Holy Cross and Boston College and have numerous girls over the years play at the college level. Lauren has played at the number one spot in both of her years with me and I fully expect her to play there the next two. I am anxious to see what she can do this spring and beyond.

Lauren is hands down the best player I have had at Notre Dame Academy. She came in as a well established player and has made great progress over the last two years. She uses the spring high school season as a spring board to her summer season of AJGA and other local and national events. She works hard at the game and absolutely loves playing and practicing. She is also very coachable listening and adopting suggestions I may make. The sky is really the limit for her. I believe by the time she graduates from high school that she will be ready to play at the Division I level. She has a great family that loves and supports her in everything she does. There is no doubt that she will be very successful in golf and anything she does in life. I recommend her unconditionally. It has been an absolute joy to coach her and I plan to stay in contact with her and see all that she will become.

Sincerely,

Dennis R. Streeter

Head Golf Coach

Notre Dame Academy